

Pirate Fairy

By Julia 5A

On a huge hill there stood a haunted castle, beneath the hill there was a rather jolly village. In the village everyone knew each other. A lot of their gossip was about the hill and the castle on top of it. Although they liked to talk about the castle NOBODY EVER entered it, except a girl who got trapped in it and apparently turned into a wicked witch. People in the village think it's because the door knob got frozen (since it's very cold up there) and that she cursed it so whenever anybody comes in they NEVER come out.

The haunted castle was definitely not a nice place. You wouldn't be able to see through the windows since they were all shattered and dusty, there were cob webs in every corner of the castle but you couldn't see any spiders. There is much more, the only way to find out is to open its creaking door.

One day, down in the village a ship arrived, it looked like a pirate ship, but the person that hopped out of the ship didn't at all. He was a captain but he was a different one; he had a black beard and most captains have grey beards, that gave him his name Captain Black Beard. Captain Black Beard was not very smart and most captains are (you probably know that) unfortunately he wasn't one of the many.

Captain Black Beard had a LOT of hair, his beard was long, so was his hair. So you had to be a genius to tell the two apart. Captain Black Beard looked a lot like a pirate, he acted like a very dumb princess. He really cared about his hair so the first place he went to was the hair salon.

Captain Black Beard didn't want a haircut. First he wanted to show off his beard but nobody liked it so he started buying loads of: hair dryers, shampoo, conditioners, straighteners, curlers, practically any hair product you can think of. When Captain Black Beard finished his shopping, the first thing he saw was the giant hill, so without thinking about it he started walking up it.

He had no idea about what he was doing, he didn't know what could happen, and clearly he was just skipping up it. On the way Captain Black Beard spotted a stick, it was no ordinary stick, it had a glittery star on top of it and the rest of it was bright pink. As you probably guessed, Captain Black Beard picked it up.

Captain Black Beard continued skipping, but then sparkles started to surround the wand. Suddenly he appeared in a creepy looking place, it was definitely the castle. As always Captain Black Beard did not care where he was or what he was doing he was just enjoying what he was doing at any time so he started dancing. At that moment he felt his wand hit something. It must've been the witch, everything turned pink. Captain Black Beard was officially a very clumsy pirate fairy.