

The Underwater Island

By Scarlett 5B

Once upon a time there was a very wonderful land. We can't go there because this is a very magical place, underwater, this land is amazing; everywhere, covered with sparkling seaweed, shiny shells that glimmered so bright that they brightened up the sea. There was lots of sand.

In this magnificent place live lots of mermaids and mermen. Our story begins with one of these mermen.

This mermaid is beautiful: shining white teeth, glimmering blond hair and stunning blue eyes that shone like stars in the sky. Now just beyond the village of mermaids and mermen was a cave, a very dark cave and in this cave lived a big green ogre and he was planning to make the mermaid marry him!!

The ogre is very ugly: he has very bumpy green skin and knobby bits on his back. He didn't have shining eyes or hair and his teeth were black and yellow. I told you he was ugly!!! So on his green calendar he planned to set out on Thursday 15th December.

1 week later, the ugly green ogre was eating breakfast when he looked up at the calendar and saw it was the 15th December, the day he planned to capture the beautiful mermaid.

While the ogre was having his breakfast and thinking how he would capture the mermaid, the mermaid was getting dressed into her best dress; there was a big disco outside the castle. "Ah" said the ogre, he got an idea and started to write a letter to the mermaid.

Clunk "The post is here" said the mermaid's father "please can you get it?", "Sure" said the mermaid and swam off to get it.

"Omg I can't believe it" on top of the pile of letters was a letter for the mermaid. She trembled as she tore off the top of the envelope. Inside was a letter; she opened it out and she read:

Dear Beautiful Mermaid,

You know the disco at the castle,
it has changed to just the edge of the village near the ogres cave.

Be there at 3.45 and don't be late.

Best wishes

King Mason

“What’s the time?” she looked at the clock “oh no I only have 5 minutes to swim there” and swam off!!

She arrived at the edge of the village then suddenly there was a swish and then pitch black.

The ogre walked back to his cave and opened the sack.

“I know what your game is and you are not gonna win” she said “there’s no game, just marriage to you”.

“No way, why would someone marry you”

“Marry me”

“N.O. Spells no”

“I will lock you in the cellar”

3 days later...

“Why did I believe that letter”

That moment one of the mermen came along “we have been looking for you” said the merman “your fathers worried!!”

2 hours later...“It is so good to be out of that dark cave”. She lived happily ever after.
